to see the bonemian girl and she felt elated as she sat in an unaccustomed part of the theatre with him. He was awfully fond of music and sang a little. People knew that they were courting and, when he sang about the lass that loves a sailor, she always felt pleasantly confused. He used to call her Poppens out of fun. First of all it had been an excitement for her to have a fellow and then she had begun to like him. He had tales of distant countries. He had started as a deck boy at a pound a month on a ship of the Allan Line going out to Canada. He told her the names of the ships he had been on and the names of the different services. He had sailed through the Straits of Magellan and he told her stories of the terrible Patagonians. He had fallen on his feet in Buenos Ayres, he said, and had come over to the old country just for a holiday. Of course, her father had found out the affair and had forbidden her to have anything to say to him. Authoritarian father

"I know these sailor chaps," he said. Europe?

One day he had quarreled with Frank and after that she had to meet her lover secretly. Disobedience

The evening deepened in the avenue. The white of two letters in her lap grew indistinct. One was to Harry; the other was to her father. Ernest had been her favourite but she liked Harry too. Her father was becoming old lately, she noticed; he would miss her. Sometimes he could be very nice. Not long before, when she had been laid up for a day, he had read her out a ghost story and made toast for her at the fire. Another day, when their mother was alive, they had all gone for a picnic to the Hill of Howth. She remembered her father putting on her mother's bonnet to make the children laugh. Examples of a model father (good father) some type of affection Her time was running out but she continued to sit by the window, leaning her head against the window curtain, inhaling the odour of dusty cretonne. Down far in the avenue she could hear a street organ playing. She knew the air. Strange that it should come that very night to remind her of the promise to her mother, her promise to keep the home together as long as she could. She remembered the last night of her mother's illness; she was again in the close dark room at the other side of the hall and outside she heard a melancholy air of Italy. The organ-player had been ordered to go away and given sixpence. She remembered her father strutting back into the sickroom saying:

like a noise "Damned Italians! coming over here!"

Duty As she mused the pitiful vision of her mother's life laid its spell on the very quick of her being -- that life of commonplace sacrifices closing in final craziness. She trembled as she heard again her mother's voice saying constantly with foolish insistence:

she willing to sacrifice for mother "Derevaun Seraun! Derevaun Seraun!" (The end of pleasure is pain. The end of pleasure is pain.)

She stood up in a sudden impulse of terror. Escape! She must escape! Frank would save her. He would give her life, perhaps love, too. But she wanted to live. Why should she be unhappy? She had a right to happiness. Frank would take her in his arms, fold her in his arms. He would save her.

Effects of Self-Regulatory Behavior on ESL Student Writing

24 Numerous studies have found that self-regulation and self-efficacy are related to achievement outcomes

Social Cognitive Theory

~~and~~ self-regulation closely related to self-efficacy and agency

25 Zimmerman and Bandura found that perceptions of self-regulating ability for writing significantly influenced perceived general academic self-efficacy which in turn, led students to adopt the goals necessary to master writing skills. They found that general academic self-efficacy was significantly related to final grades in composition > review of literature on empirical research on WC efficacy did not reveal a single study that examined WC visitation as a reflection of self-regulatory behavior and its influence on writing performance

Studies he cites evaluating WC efficacy in general

Sutton and Anzola (1978) +

Smolkin (1980) a little

Bennett (1982) inconclusive - too many confounding variables

32 > SCT and self-regulation theory ... predict that those with a high sense of self-efficacy actively seek help when challenged

33 * Frequency of WC visits was the only significant predictor of grade in junior composition
- not SAT verbal scores
- not TOEFL scores (but yes in fresh comp)
- not reading scores - entrance test
- pre - post test scores in house writing cen

33 Our results ... indicate that increased instruction via WC tutoring produced tangible results. Handwritten p. 95f
